A photograph of Premier Scott Moe sitting in a large, dark leather office chair in a formal office setting. He is wearing a dark suit, a white shirt, a red tie, and brown leather shoes. He is looking directly at the camera with a slight smile. The office has a large desk with papers and a lamp, and several framed certificates on the wall. A large window is in the background, letting in bright light. A black text box with white text is overlaid on the right side of the image.
